School*

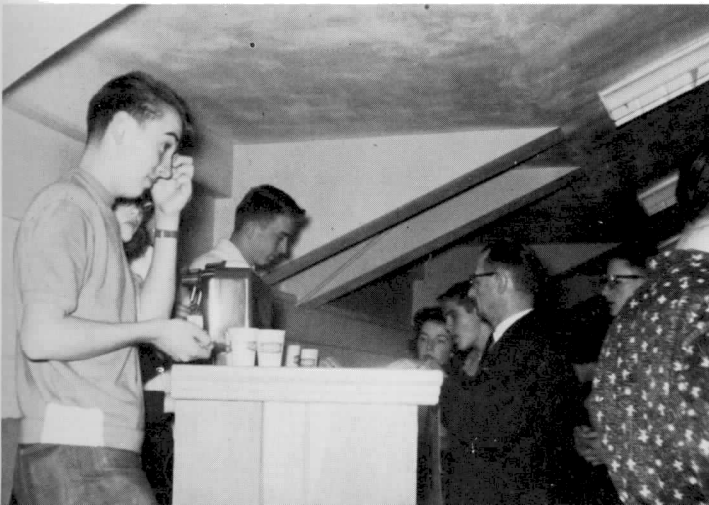

World of Students

Danny Hinkle (so that's who it is!) and Karen Rector, freshmen, show their jackets. This is the style which is to be continued through the years.

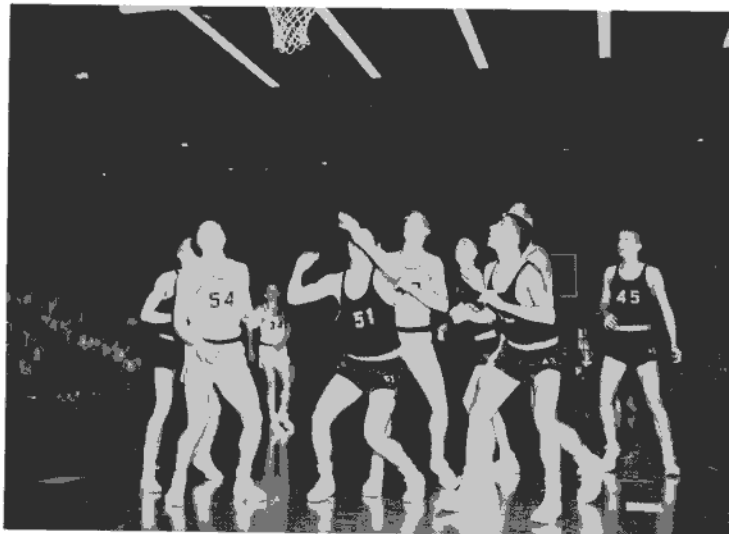

Showing off their new rings are Johnny Stewart and Eleanor Steed. The rings are two-tone gold with mother-of-pearl inlay.

A welcome sight at ballgames is the Junior Class's coke stand. Working this night were Chuck Hochadel, Jan Jones, and Everett Pugsley.

World of Athletics

A tense moment in the county tourney. (We got the ball.)

Sandy Moore, senior, has been backing our team as yell-leader all four of her high-school years.

Mr. Woolsey gives the team instructions at half-time.

Classroom World

The last period study hall is sometimes bustling with activity, sometimes limp and languid with laziness. People full of spirit, lacadasical - they're all here.

A favorite "Class" of most students comes in the cafeteria at noon. Here is Mr. Richman punching tickets for the freshmen.

This is the Latin class reaching across the years and communicating with Caesar.

The prom queen, her attendants, and their escorts are from left to right, Margaret Bender, Fred Painter, Nancy Brubaker, Tom Kramer, Thelma Cannon (queen of 1960), Dale Hough, Roxie Pickel, (prom queen), Kieth Pressnall, Sandra Moore, Jean Williams, and Jeff Fenwick.

The seniors were measured for their caps and gowns December 5. They are space blue.

Shirley Musick

The entire senior class got together for a civics class one day, and this is what the camera captured. Mr. Richman is showing us one of the trouble spots of the world.

World of Activities

The Pep Club was in action when this picture was taken. The other team shouldn't have made that basket!

Dancing in room 15 has become a very popular pastime at noon this year. Mr. Osburn is the disc-jockey.

Another favorite activity of girls everywhere is a gabfest at their lockers at noon. These girls are seniors (you never outgrow your need to talk).

Foreword

The bubbling mountain stream, the spring flowers, the gentle rain - all are symbolic of youth. Youth is only a small segment on our road of life, but the prophet of the remaining distance of that road. Everything that we do is dependent on this first segment. As the small mountain stream joins the rolling river, and the delicate bud blossoms into a large beautiful flower, so does youth change to adulthood. It determines our life's work, our characters, our personalities, our friends, our emotions, and our thoughts. For these reasons youth is important, and we hope we shall be able to make the best of the opportunities that present themselves.

With each step on the road of life we give something to the world. It may not be much, but someone will always be affected by what we do.

During these years in school while we are preparing for life, there will be many events which we shall want to remember. It is the hope of the 1962 Da Capo Staff that as the years pass and the memories fade, we can look back to this book and relive these events. We also hope that we can be proud of our many accomplishments.

Editor-in-Chief

David E. Parker

Dedication

We, the senior class of Daleville High School, dedicate the 1982 Da Capo to Mr. Duane Osburn.

We sincerely appreciate all of his hard work and efforts while serving as our class sponsor these past four years.

We also wish to dedicate this yearbook to our parents who have so willingly guided and directed our paths through our years in school.

 one of the most wonderful guys around. You are loads of fun and a real cross character. I could be prejudiced but I think you are real sweet! If you don't change anything but your attitude toward a few things everyone will know that if you want to make a success out of your life, you will! I'm hoping we can go through with our deal in 1965, I will if you will!!
 With all my love
