

Sacred Heart Cemetery

Section 8, Utica Township
Reilly Ridge, Chickasaw County IA

Sacred Heart Cemetery is the parish cemetery of Sacred Heart Catholic Church of Reilly Ridge, originally known as St Ignatius Church. Today the church no longer exists; however, the cemetery's hallowed ground remains the resting place for many of the original settlers of Utica Township, as well as descendants of those early pioneers.

The place is known as Reilly Ridge (Reilly from the first settlers, and Ridge because waters drain one way to the Turkey River and the other way to Crane Creek). In early days it was referred to as Reilly Settlement. The cemetery is located in Section 8 of Utica Township, approximately seven miles north and slightly west of Lawler.

The original church and cemetery began with the name of St Ignatius, but a fire destroyed that church. When a new church was constructed and completed in 1912, the name was changed to Sacred Heart.

Those who rest in Sacred Heart Cemetery are intimately connected to the history of this earliest catholic church in Chickasaw County, so a brief historical sketch will help paint an interesting picture of those who lived here and now rest in peace in this quiet and serene place.

The early settlers of this parish were mostly natives of the old country, Ireland, having temporarily settled in the Eastern States, but they beheld in the fertile valleys west of the Mississippi, a land of promise that would reward merit and yield to toil. In 1854 they began to pour westward. By about the 1880s, German and Bohemian settlers began arriving on the Ridge.

In 1856 the St Ignatius Parish was organized. Sylvester REILLY, Daniel R. KIRBY, Thomas B. KELLY, Patrick GORMAN, Terrence COMMERFORD, Walter MITCHELL, Amos SMITH, Owen GALLIGAN, Jeremiah FITZPATRICK, David KEARNEY and Patrick KIRBY each gave $10. Thirty acres of land were donated by Sylvester REILLY and Terrence COMMERFORD (15 acres each) for a church and cemetery. George ARNOLD hewed out the timber and did the carpentry work and with all the men helping, a modest, wooden slab building was erected.

In August 1857, Amos SMITH mounted the cross marking the completion of the church of St Ignatius. There were about 100 members present at the dedication. It was the first house of worship in the county.

By 1870 the church building became too small for the growing parish. Additions were made in 1871, which gave St Ignatius the form of a cross. Lumber was brought from Auburn in Fayette County for the purpose and the work was done by James SCALLY.

In 1877, a rectory was built and the first resident pastor, Father John Reilly, came to minister to the people of Reilly Settlement.

As the parish grew in numbers, a newer and bigger church became a necessity. In 1899, property of John Carlon was selected as the site for the new church and a church and rectory was constructed across the road from the first church and the cemetery. This new church was dedicated on 08 May 1901.

Wednesday, 21 August 1907 was the Golden Jubilee of the parish, a native son, Mr Dan E. KELLY of Valparaiso, Indiana, returned to Reilly Ridge to give the address. He researched who had been present for that first dedication of the church in August 1857 and put together the following list:

Sacred Heart Cemetery looking from the southwest corner

For years St Ignatius Cemetery was the only consecrated ground north and west of Dubuque. The story is told of a pathetic, heart-wrenching incident that took place in the early days of Sacred Heart Cemetery. A Catholic family lived south of Bassett (name unknown). They had drifted westward; in November 1858 a little girl of the family sickened and died and the father and mother wanted the child buried in consecrated ground. Stretching out to the southeast some eighty miles away was Dubuque and to the northeast was St Ignatius Cemetery, forty-three miles. Out of two saplings, two uncles of the child constructed a stretcher and placed the little body on a sheet suspended between and started on foot across the prairies bearing the body between them. On the first day they reached a point midway between New Hampton and Fredericksburg and at dawn of the second day they took up the weary quest and just as the sun was sinking to rest they reached the home of Amos SMITH. He summoned Sylvester REILLY, Terrence COMMERFORD and several other members of the band; a rude box was procured and the little body was given burial in consecrated ground, and her dust now rests in the comfort of this cemetery. No priest was present, but the sturdy sons of Eire knelt in prayer; the cold winds of the dying autumn sang requiem, and the angel hosts winged a benediction from above.

Sacred Heart Cemetery, near the middle

The first priest to say Mass in the church was Father Louis DeCAILLY. His servers were John HUNTER and Daniel R. KIRBY.

The first burial was that of Mrs DUFFY, in 1856. Mrs DUFFY was the mother of Mrs William CLARKEN.

The first child baptized in the church was Ellen REILLY, daughter of Sylvester and Bridget REILLY.

The first marriage was performed by Father DeCAILLY at Thomas McCarten's, when Catheren SULLIVAN was married to Francis CLARKEN.

During the night of 28 May 1910, a fire of unknown origin destroyed the beautiful St Ignatius Church. Only the rectory was saved.

After the debris of the burned church was cleared away, plans were soon underway to erect a new church. Again, people were called on to donate their share and responded generously.

The name of St Ignatius was changed to Sacred Heart at the dedication of the new church in 1912.

(before the fire of Mar 2000 completely destroyed the church building)

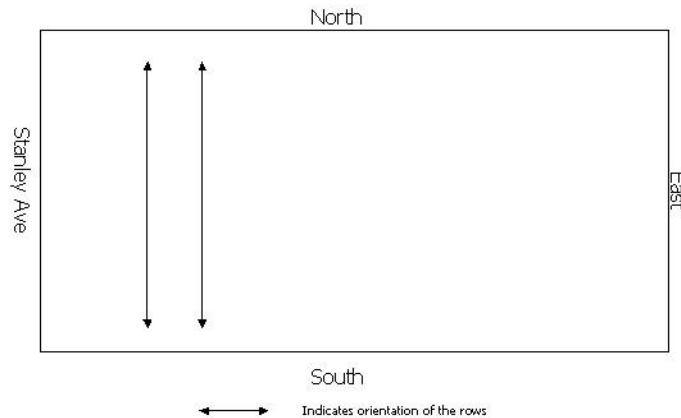

The dirt road, which runs north and south, is called Stanley Avenue today. The newest of the churches, finished in 1901, was located on the west side of the road and the cemetery on the east side of the road. The earlier churches were located adjacent to the cemetery. Today there is a memorial shrine, seen below, which marks the place where the church stood for so many years.

Sacred Heart Shrine

Sacred Heart Cemetery, Utica Township
Chickasaw County IA

The aerial view on the previous page shows the configuration of the cemetery, which is a simple rectangle. There is no central shrine, nor are there any "streets" running through the grounds. It is well kept and the many trees provide for a very peaceful setting. The rows have been numbered starting on the west end with the first row.

The original release of this burial record was in August 1988 by the Chickasaw County Genealogical Society (CCGS). This is the first revision of this document that has been published since then. Work will continue on this document and hopefully some of the more difficult issues will be resolved in time. Updated revisions will follow in future, as appropriate. This revised document goes well beyond the original burial record, which just contained a simple listing of burials as recorded just from the gravestones giving the names, the dates of birth and death found on the stones and perhaps anything extra that might have been engraved on the stones.

The objectives for this document were to provide:

1. complete dates of birth and death,
2. names of the parents of the deceased, including the maiden name of the mother
3. middle names of the individual, when possible
4. identify as many unmarked graves as possible.

Over three years of work have gone into the research and compilation of this data, but the work is far from complete.

Research and source materials used in this burial record include the original CCGS work of August 1988, additional canvasses to record and update inscriptions on each of the gravestones, pictures of each of the stones were taken, searching for and reading/studying several hundred newspaper obituaries, personal interviews with family members or descendants, reviewing family history/genealogical research data, funeral memorial folders, church records, civil death records, civil marriage records, Iowa military grave registration records, the Social Security Death Index (SSDI), the Works Progress Administration (WPA) 1938 Graves Registration Project for Chickasaw County Burials; 1919 History of Chickasaw and Howard Counties Iowa, Volume II, By Robert Herd Fairbairn; 1883 History of Chickasaw and Howard Counties Iowa by W.E. Alexander; Federal and State Census Records (1860 – 1930) for the verification and cross-referencing of specific data points.

Please note, the church records for Sacred Heart only go back to 1900; the earlier records are unaccounted for, therefore we are at a major disadvantage when it comes to the first forty years of death/burial history.

There are 288 documented entries in this revision of the Sacred Heart Cemetery Burial Record. The entries are ordered alphabetically. Bear in mind that an 'entry' consists of burials and certain planned burials. For example, if a spouse has died and the surviving spouse's name is also on the gravestone, each name is a separate entry. Dates of birth have not been included for a living, surviving spouse, even if it has been engraved on the stone.

The unique gravestone of Sylvester & Bridget Reilly, for whom Reilly Settlement was named

To date, our research has identified 21 unmarked burials (in other words, no gravestone has been found, however research has uncovered evidence which strongly indicates that the burial took place in this cemetery). I believe that there are more, however there needs to be adequate evidence to substantiate each burial before it is included in this record. There are various reasons why a burial doesn't have a gravestone, ranging from financial constraints, to oversight, or sometimes there was no one remaining to take responsibility for acquiring a gravestone. I have also found that there are a couple of cases where the death date did not get engraved on the stone.

One of the more interesting reasons that a grave may appear to be 'unmarked' is the result of gravestones that have sunk below the surface of the soil. This happens over a long period of time and can often go unchecked, especially if there are no remaining family members to take notice.

One other finding, relevant to unmarked graves, is that a significant percentage of them are infants, meaning less than one year old.

Since Sacred Heart Cemetery is so old, many of the oldest stones are in extremely poor condition. Often these stones are nearly impossible to read. If you believe one of your ancestors was buried in this cemetery and the name does not appear in the burial list, it could be that the stone just could not be read. There are several issues of this nature and we will continue to work to resolve these mysteries.

A very thorough effort has gone into the compilation of these data, however, there is always the possibility of an error creeping in. If you believe you have found an error, we encourage you to bring it to our attention. Please write to us at the address on the title page of this document and provide the details of the error along with your source data. Unfortunately, conflicts do occur, even in source documents including civil records, church records, obituaries and the engraving on the stones themselves. The most important point is that we strive for the highest degree of accuracy possible in our research and compilation work. Also, please contact us if you have information you are able to contribute which would 'plug holes' in missing data, and especially if you know we have missed a burial in this record.

Informational notes pertaining to this document:

-For each entry, the names on the stone are given, followed by the names of the parents of the deceased. If it is a single stone (meaning only one name on it) then the name of the spouse will be added, if known. If the deceased was never married, that is also noted, primarily because that is important genealogical information.

-The convention or format used for the recording of dates is: yyyy.mm.dd
(In computerized databases, it is crucial to use this format in order to effectively use the date field information and to accurately sort date fields.)

-When you see a lower case "c" (circa) immediately after a date, it indicates that the date given is calculated or a logical estimate derived from information available.

-When you see a "+" (plus sign) immediately after someone's name in this document it indicates that the named person was deceased at the time of the event.

-When you see an "*" (asterisk) immediately after the deceased person's name, it identifies an unmarked grave. (Just a note: in some of these cases of unmarked graves, it could be that there actually is a stone, but it may have sunk below the surface of the ground and thus appears to be unmarked.)

-When maiden names appear in the document, they are enclosed in parentheses ( ).

-There are a few cases where you will see a double surname, e.g. JONES SMITH. This is generally a judgment call which I've chosen to do in a few cases in order to make the individual print out in a specific place in the record. Usually this pertains to a widowed lady who re-marries, and is buried next to the first husband. By using both married surnames I hope it provides additional, helpful information when searching the cemetery for the burial.

-Entries have not been included in this document for gravestones procured and installed in advance; ie. the individual(s) are living at the time of publication.

-In cases where there is more than one person named on a stone, e.g. a surviving spouse, the name will be included in this document, however, dates are omitted.

-Many abbreviations have been used in this document in the interest of making the most efficient use of a finite amount of space.

-The following abbreviations are used throughout this document:

sf/ = same foundation
ss/ = same stone
f/o = father of w/o = wife of d/o = daughter of b/o = brother of m/o = mother of h/o = husband of s/o = son of
