FARM BETTER . . . ELECTRICALLY

Electric power can do for a nickel the farm work it would take a man eight full hours to do.

It offers a way to cut production costs and increase efficiency in farm operations.

Automation—"push button farming"—is the new way to farm for profit.

HEIFER PROJECT, Inc.

New Windsor, Maryland • Phone: NEWton 5-3131 Cable: HEIPRO

THE STORY OF HEIFER PROJECT

HEIFER PROJECT, Inc., is an interfaith relief and rehabilitation organization that sends contributed livestock and poultry to war ruined and agriculturally undeveloped countries.

Its purpose is to not only meet immediate needs of hungry people but also supply food potential for the months and years to come.

Projects are submitted by governmental or relief agencies to the Heifer Project board. Upon approval, publicity about the project is given to interested church groups, service organizations, and interested individuals. They contribute funds or give an animal from their herds.

One value in the Heifer Project program is the "Multiplier quality". Animals reproduce themselves. Feed is required. Equipment is needed.

The produce must be transported to the market. All of these activities require and offer to men opportunities for new forms of work and income.

There is also the spiritual and ethical value as the gift is "passed along" in the form of the first born offspring to needy neighbors. Thus the recipient shares in the process of giving. This experience is most important in maintaining and developing dignity and personal worth which is usually damaged or stunned by poverty and war.

Since 1944, Heifer Project has shipped to 43 different lands. These living animals and poultry are a visible dramatic evidence of good will which can be seen by everyone. It is a practical form of sharing that increases for years yet to come.

MISS 9,000, who sailed to Western Germany in September 1956, was the fourth heifer contributed by Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Overly of Bareville, Pennsylvania. The recipient is Otto Griese, war veteran, father of six children who fled from West Prusia in 1945. They are now starting over in the Rheinland Pfalz area of West Germany.
